

Have you heard about MALP®?

The Mutually Adaptive Learning Paradigm®, or MALP®, is a culturally responsive–sustaining instructional approach to help educators address the needs of students with limited or interrupted formal education (SLIFE) and other struggling culturally and linguistically diverse learners

Participate in MALP® professional development, including:

- The MALP® Teacher Planning Checklist
- MALP® classroom projects
- Curriculum adaptation strategies
... and so much more!

Visit Us: <http://malpeducation.com>

Look what your colleagues are saying about their MALP® training:

- "Thank you for an amazing PD! Everything was relevant and accessible to us with such ease ."
- "You have inspired me to plan, reflect, revise, and incorporate all sorts of pathways for SLIFE success."

Our overarching role is to create fertile spaces for all students

Helaine W. Marshall, Ph.D.
Founder of MALP®

